Memorandum

To: CSLSA Board of Directors
 From: Bill Richardson
 Date: October 15, 1998
 Subject: President's Activity Report

I continue to keep very busy with the business of the CSLSA and USLA. Correspondence has increased greatly and specifically E-Mail correspondence. The following are the highlights of activities or issues I have worked on this last six months.

Executive Board Replacements

Mike Halphide resigned his Delegates position on the Executive Board due to personal reasons, primarily the birth of twins, which he is occupying much of his spare time. With the passing of A.J. Summers, that leaves two open positions on the Board.

The Executive Board has appointed Kai Weisser as the Recurrent Representative to replace A.J. due to his vast experience in this position. I will be entertaining a motion under New Business to accept this appointment. This will then leave two openings in the Delegate position.

My recommendation to this Board is to elect Rob McGowan, Chairman of the Competition Committee and the next vote receiver in the last election, and Reenie Boyer, Chairperson of the Junior Guard Committee. Both are very active members who regularly attend Executive Board Meetings. The action on this issue will be taken under New Business as well.

CSLSA Regional Championships

Millennium Omnimedia

As many of you know this issue was an ill-conceived agreement for sponsorship and acquisition of television presentation of the USLA National and Regional Championship Series. Because of inactivity and continued whining on the part of Millennium, the USLA Board authorized cancellation of the contract.

While this was good for USLA it meant that the regions and the Chicago Chapter (the host of the Nationals) were on their own to get sponsors for their respective events. This was difficult for Chicago and Huntington Beach who host events that required sound funding to put on a good event.

Thanks to the Chicago Parks District personnel and Dick Colosi, the National Games were put on with a shoestring budget, but with class. Thanks to HBSLSA's Kai Weisser, Dave Simcox, CSLSA's Dick Colosi and Eric Bauer, for their work on obtaining Sol Cerveza as a sponsor the Regional games were a great success, even with the day change.

1999 CSLSA Championships

The Executive Board agreed to HBSLSA hosting the 1999 games. A letter of Agreement will be drawn up with HBSLSA to set the parameters including any potential profit sharing, income and expense reports, etc.

2000 and 2001 RFP's

The Executive Board is seeking RFP's from Chapters interested in hosting the 2000 and 2001 Regional Games. Rob McGowan will address this issue in the Competition Committee.

Ingram Licensing Agreement

While I was in Chicago for the Nationals, Mr. Colosi and I had the opportunity to sit down with Ben Kato of Ingram Company, Ltd. We are negotiating a licensing agreement for use of the USLA logo. The agreement, which is still in the works gives guaranteed minimum payments to USLA, with increased payments based on the success of the program. The minimums per year to USLA would be:

1st year	$15,000
2nd Year	$25,000
3rd Year	$50,000

The agreement is still pending due to some reorganization on Ingram's part. We had hoped to have a contract ready for signing for the meeting next week.

Ocean Beach

As you may have heard or seen in various media, USLA has been very involved in attempting to improve the level of safety at Ocean Beach, just outside of San Francisco. There were three drowning there the beginning of summer. Mr. Brewster will undoubtedly report more on this issue in his report.

As the President of USLA I assigned Rick Gould to head the committee working with the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. Also assigned were Carl Drake from CSLSA and Bob Fennel of the Pacific Northwest Region.

Membership

With the resignation of Mike Halphide from the CSLSA Executive Board, we need someone to take responsibility for the Membership Committee. This job entails assisting the Treasurer with reconciling the number of members and the amount of dues obtained and to chair the committee meetings which normally establish what, if any, additions to the national membership kit are appropriate.

In Mike's absence I have taken the responsibility to create a list of members in a format that we can use to verify names, chapters and voting issues. I will be distributing this list at this meeting for your review and correction.

Public Education Booth

Mr. Bartlett has obtained the CSLSA Public Ed Booth which is on display at this meeting. If you have additional materials, including photos, diagrams etc., which would be beneficial to the booth presentation, please contact Bill Humphreys.

Re: Activity Report

CSLSA Hosting the Spring USLA Board Meeting.

There was a good response with regards to the funding efforts on behalf of the CSLSA as host of the USLA Spring National Board Meeting. Approximately twenty four requests were sent to potential meeting sponsors and exhibitors. Ten sponsors were acquired for a total of $7,400.

Specifically as follows;

- Physio-Control - $1,200
- Heartstream - $1,200
- Survivalink - $800
- Ambu Medical - $300
- BZ Pro Broads - $300
- Maui Jim Sunglasses - $800
- Marine Rescue Products - $500
- SmithKline Beecham - $500
- Peli-Guard Lifeguard Apparel - $500
- Lack's Lifeguard Umbrellas - $300

In addition, Hawaiian Tropic provided all attendees canvas beach bags at no cost. Water Safety Products (WSP) provided all attendees zippered canvas portfolios screened with the meeting date and location. WSP absorbed the cost of the shipping, screening as well as half the cost of the portfolios. The final price to the CSLSA was $2.00 a piece.

1998 California Lifeguard Championships.

Support for the 1998 California Lifeguard Championships was acquired from three sources for a total of $3,000 in cash, as detailed below.

1. Sol Cerveza. The California Surf Lifesaving Association was delighted to have Sol Cerveza as the lead sponsor of the 1998 California Lifeguard Championships held July 16, 1998 in Huntington Beach. Their commitment was both timely and generous with a donation of $2,200 in cash.

Moreover, Sol Cerveza's staff did an excellent job at the event. Sol Cerveza's signage was important in bringing visibility to the games.

In addition, Sol Cerveza more than met local requirements for "responsible drinking" signage.

Sol Cerveza would like to continue the relationship for future tournaments and hopes CSLSA feels as they do.

2. Maui Jim Sunglasses. Maui Jim Sunglasses was acquired as an exhibitor at the 1998 California Lifeguard Championships for a fee of $400.

3. "1-800-Collect". "1-800-Collect" was granted site exhibitor privileges at the 1998 California Lifeguard Championships for a fee of $400.

1998 Fall CSLSA Members Meeting.

Neo-Fin has agreed to contribute $500 as a sponsor of the 1998 Fall CSLSA Members Meeting.

Hawaiian Tropic.

Hawaiian Tropic provided 1,330 tubes (6.5 ounce size) SPF 15 and SPF 30 of its "Lifeguard Formula" valued at over $7,000 for CSLSA lifeguard membership kits.

MEMORANDUM

As CSLSA Secretary, I have been attending Executive Board, General Board and USLA General Board meetings. I am looking forward to representing CSLSA in Norfolk, VA (11/4/98-11/8/98). The majority of my time has been spent preparing Executive Board and General Board meeting minutes.

I would like to take this opportunity to share my thoughts on how this past Fourth of July has impacted our Executive Board. On that day, we lost an Executive Board member, our Recurrent Representative and our Exchange Committee Chairman.

But as we all know, the loss is much greater than that. The lifesaving profession lost a leader, Seal Beach lost a Lieutenant and we all lost a very dear friend.

I feel privileged to have served on the same board as A.J. Summers. He was a tireless advocate who dedicated his life to our mission. A.J. accomplished more in a short period of time than many will in a lifetime. He led by example and was always there to help a friend. A.J. made work fun. If you believe that actions speak louder than words, A.J. actions spoke volumes.

No one can replace A.J. It's up to all of us to pick up the slack. I think that's what he would have wanted. He'd be disappointed if we let him down.

 Subject: Recurrent Representative Report

A lot transpired since the last CSLSA meeting including the tragic loss of our great friend A J Summers. I will miss him for a long time and will always remember the fun times as lifeguard professionals and friends.

I volunteered and was appointed to the recurrent representative position by the executive board in August. I spent some time at Seal Beach with Steve Cushman and Tim Dorsey locating CSLSA files belonging to A J on behalf of the CSLSA and USLA. It was a sad situation, but good to visit with the many Seal Beach guards while there. The Seal Beach crew is great. Thanks!

As a CSLSA delegate I was quite busy with a variety of projects since the last meeting. I expect my schedule will become somewhat more busy in five weeks when my first child (little Bud Weisser) arrives. Briefly, some of my accomplishments and ongoing projects include:

- 1) The exchange program: Thanks to Chris Graham, the exchange program has not lost a beat. As a past committee chair of the exchange, I assisted and communicated with Chris quite a bit. I feel Chris will do fine job as the committee chair and know he has been desirous of such a position for quite some time.

- 2) CSLSA.org. I spent some time and effort with a few changes to the web page with Seal Beach lifeguard and webmaster Jeff Busche. I look forward to the CSLSA organizing a formal program or proposal at this meeting directed at a quality and unique web page.

- 3) USLA Surfboat: Asay or Dory? Go Figure! I posted a message with that title on the USLA bulletin board a few days ago. In my opinion, as well as other competitors, the USLA position on the issue (problem) remains unsatisfactory. Many throughout the USLA would like to see the two surfboats compete in separate classes. I would like to see the CSLSA do the following: 1) Acknowledge unanimously among CSLSA delegates at the next USLA meeting that the current USLA position is unsatisfactory and 2) Recommend in the same fashion the alternative two class surfboat format.

- 3) 1998 CSLSA Regionals: The HBSLSA and I successfully completed another CSLSA Regionals. The highlights of the event are included in a separate report. In addition to the report I brought twenty copies of the event results and a 30 minute ESPN2 tape of the CSLSA lifeguard and junior lifeguard competition which aired on national television.

- 4) 1999 CSLSA Regionals: The HBSLSA and I will again negotiate for the 1999 event. My intent is to offer the same proposal as last year. The HBSLSA also requests adding exclusive marketing rights. This request does not exclude the possibility of national sponsorship proposals from Mr. Colosi on a case by case basis with input from the CSLSA executive board.

CLUB TORTUGA

Volume 3, Issue 2

September 1998

Congratulations

to all the volunteer Salvavidas of Central America and those members of the USLA for another year of service to the people of your respective countries!

EDITORIAL

Throughout Central America, the Club Tortuga is gaining recognition by the smallest of groups of Salvavidas as somewhere and someone to turn to for help just to do the job. The Tortugas are committed to this difficult mission on their behalf. It is a huge undertaking, but one that we as lifeguards realize must be taken. None of us can sit by knowing that so many people are drowning in Central America. With your support, even in the very minimum way, together with the membership of the United States Lifesaving Association, men and women can make a world of difference and bring a new awareness to the governments of Central America

Mexico at USLA Nationals in Chicago

Mexican Salvavidas Capt. Victor Zavala & Miss Gabby Gabriel, co-sponsored by the Club Tortuga, and Mrs. Joysec Connell of the Riverside Sister City Project, participated in this year's USLA Nationals in Chicago Aug. 7th & 8th. Both competed in the Men and women open division events representing Mexico as unofficial contestants in an outstanding manner. Exposure to these types of events will greatly enhance our efforts to establish for Mexico and the other Central American countries an understanding of the many advantages of developing national lifeguard associations. Congratulations to Victor and Gabby!

Offering Assistance to Central America

Full of 1998. The Spanish video, Spanish training manual and Spanish beach safety signs, will be forwarded to Central American authorities with a cover letter offering to assist in developing water safety programs. If you have the names of anyone in Central America you feel could benefit by this package, please advise us.

Requests from Central America

From the state of Guerrero Mexico, Acapulco has formed the "Union de Guardavidas". They have requested from the Club Tortuga, Training and organizational assistance.

- From the state of Sinoloa Mexico, the Mayor and volunteers have Requested support for training.
- From Cancun we have received correspondence relating to that areas desire to formulate a viable lifeguard association and requests for assistance.
- From Costa Rica similar requests have been received.

To meet these many request for assistance in the development of lifeguard programs, Club Tortuga has established the Partners in Lifeguarding project, Companero de la Salvavidas. This program will align individual American lifeguard agencies with specific Latin American "start up lifeguard groups". It will follow a "big brother" profile and be coordinated through Club Tortuga.

Is your chapter INTERESTED? If so, please contact us for more information, as this is a very important step in helping the Latin American Salvavidas.

Past President's Report

Fall 1998 Board of Directors Meeting

Legislation

- Boating Safety – SB 545, which was sponsored by the City of San Diego and supported by CSLSA, was signed by the Governor in 1997. It increased the minimum age to operate a motorboat over 15 horsepower (unsupervised) to 16. It also mandated formation of a California Boating Safety Advisory Committee. I served as a member of that committee, which recommended, among other things, a mandatory boater education program in California. The City of San Diego is expected to sponsor legislation to enact the committee's work into law and CSLSA support will be sought.
- Surfing Legislation – It is anticipated that the City of San Diego will sponsor state legislation next year aimed at surfer violence (localism and the like). CSLSA support will be sought.

USLA Website – USLA.ORG

- As editor of the site, I am happy to report that it continues to enjoy strong support. We are hoping for USLA Board of Directors approval to sell advertising on the site.
- Since the last CSLSA Board meeting, we added the rip current and spinal injury brochures (in an amended format) which were developed by TREF, California State Parks, and CSLSA.
- With the untimely death of AJ Summers, there is a need to ensure continuity of the CSLSA website. One alternative is to contract with the USLA technology firm, Adtell, and have a CSLSA member act as site editor.

San Diego Regional Lifeguard Academy

- Session #2 was conducted beginning on May 30, 1998. Seven lifeguard agencies participated and four lifeguards from Brazil were included in the training. This concept appears to be quite successful.
- The Regional Academy is now branching into personal watercraft rescue training and expects to add additional curricula in the future.

Australian Exchange

- The second half of the Australian professional lifeguard exchange went well. Dean Wilson, a paid lifeguard from Australia, worked in San Diego as a regular lifeguard for four months. He completed the Regional Lifeguard Academy and did an excellent job, providing a variety of insights on lifesaving in Australia. As a result of his recommendation, the San Diego Lifeguard Service intends to evaluate use of a smaller (10'6") and lighter (27 pound) rescue board. Dean pointed out that the majority of rescues in his area, that are not effected with IRBs, are handled with these smaller rescue boards and suggested that we consider using them.

Certification Program

- At the national Board meeting in May of this year, some modifications were made to the program. One major change was to extend the certification period to three years and increase the cost to $250.
- Interest in the Certification Program continues to increase, with new applicants. Port Hueneme is a new applicant from our region. Unfortunately, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles County have yet to submit applications for recertification this November.

- Considering the number of organizations presently involved in training public safety personnel to operate PWC, it is my belief that a national certification system similar to that used for lifeguard agencies might be of value. I have made preliminary inquiries to the Personal Watercraft Industry Association, which has indicated a willingness to help fund the effort. I intend to discuss this further at the USLA Board of Directors meeting.
- All CSLSA affiliated agencies are currently certified or in the process of certification except for the following: City of Capitola, Avila Beach - Port St. Luis Harbor, Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo, Coronado, Del Mar, Seal Beach, Tucson, and Ventura County. These agencies are encouraged to apply for certification.
- I was asked to check the California Lifesaving Association's application for certification more carefully after the last USLA Board meeting. This agency is a nonprofit organization that provides contractual lifeguard services. After several letters back and forth, it is clear that, based on the agency's assertions, they meet certification requirements. I have issued a certificate.

Coronado Lifeguards

- The City of Coronado has recently created its first two year-round, permanent positions. One is for a sergeant and the other a lieutenant. They report to an hourly captain.

International Life Saving

- I attended the ILS Board meeting in Bad Nenndorf, Germany in September. One of the most important results was approval of the first two statements by the ILS Medical Commission. They involve sun protection for lifeguards and the Heimlich drowning maneuver. These have been sent out via email and posted on the USLA.ORG Guard to Guard bulletin board.
- Rescue 2000 was discussed in great detail. It will take place in Sydney, Australia in March 2000. Extensive information on this event is available on the Surf Life Saving Australia website. For a link to this site, visit USLA.ORG

New Zealand Exchange

- Considering that the majority of lifeguard agencies within the Southwest Region are now certified, or in the process of applying therefor, I suggest that consideration be given to limiting applications for the New Zealand exchange to members of USLA certified agencies. CSLSA has a vested interest in assuring that those we send on the exchange provide information consistent with USLA standards and in encouraging agencies to become certified. I realize that some may see this as penalizing the lifeguards for failings of the agencies, but I think it may provide some further incentive to improve standards and ensure that our representatives meet those standards.

Ocean Beach

- On the first day of this summer, three persons drowned at Ocean Beach in San Francisco. I was asked by Francis Smith to help him shed some light on the issue. We held a press conference at the beach the following Sunday (June 28), with high attendance from the media, and called for lifeguard protection. I spoke as President of the Americas Region of the International Life Saving Federation, as I have done throughout this matter.
- The National Park Service, which controls this beach, did little in response to the initial drownings and press attention. When another drowning occurred, Mr. Smith and I held a second press conference at the beach on August 15, again with high press attendance.
- A variety of other persons have contributed extensive time to the matter including Rick Gould, Professor Bernard Nietschmann, Ralph Goto, Bob Burnside, Congressman Bryan Bilbray, and others.
- USLA President Bill Richardson wrote a letter to the park manager offering assistance, and when it was accepted, appointed Rick Gould, Carl Drake, and Bob Fennell to lead a group to meet with park management. They are currently drafting a report to deliver to park management.

- Numerous articles and letters have been published in local papers and at least one Associated Press story was run. The National Park Service continues to maintain that the water is so hazardous that no one should swim at this beach, therefore, to place lifeguards would be to encourage use of a hazardous area. Many of us believe that while Ocean Beach is hazardous, it is manageable with standard life-saving techniques employed elsewhere.
- On September 17, a hearing was held by a San Francisco City Council committee. Testifying against lifeguards were the assistant park director, the head ranger, a NOAA oceanographer, and Russ Albano of San Francisco Fire (a USLA certified ARRT agency). Testifying in favor were Professor Bernard Nietschmann, Francis Smith, Bob Burnside, Scott Tye, Henry Taylor (the uncle of a drowning victim), Rick Gould, and me. The sentiment from the committee was strongly in favor of providing lifeguards and the Board of Supervisors subsequently issued a resolution supporting provision of preventive measures, including water rescue personnel and a lifeguard tower.
- Park management continues to contend that placing lifeguards at the beach would be reckless because it would invite swimmers. They want to place non-lifeguard water rescue personnel (i.e. probably park rangers with rescue training) on the beach.
- Extensive information on this issue, including various newspaper articles, can be found on the USLA.ORG Guard to Guard bulletin board. All funds I have used in this effort to date (predominately airfare) have been personal.

American Lifeguard Magazine

- Considering the unfortunate hiatus in publishing ALM, I have been making some preliminary inquiries to determine if a professional publisher would consider taking over responsibility for ALM. The current editor, Tim Gallagher, has taken on the duties of Town Manager for his town, in addition to running the lifeguard service and has experienced time availability problems for the magazine.

Respectfully submitted,

B. Chris Brewster
Past President

Proposed law is a stand against 'localism' idea

"The state of California hereby declares that the ocean along California's coastline and the waves which strike it are an invaluable asset which is owned by no person and available for equal use by all."

"... No person, regardless of residence, lineage, social status or other reason may lawfully claim the right to a wave, waves or wave break area along the California coastline."

The inevitable has finally happened. The above words form the preamble of California's Open Waves Act, a proposed state law that would stiffen criminal penalties for surfers who practice "localism."

Localism can be as mild as flashing someone stink eye, a haughty stare filled with disdain, or as extreme as turning a surfboard into a weapon to spear or cut another surfer.

Typically, the purpose of such intimidation or harassment is to keep outsiders from overwhelming a surfing spot. Asserting territorial rights over a specific surfing spot is done as both a method of crowd control and to give priority to those who surf nearly every day at the same locale.

While he's never surfed, the author of the Open Waves Act, San Diego lifeguard chief Chris Brewster, has heard many complaints from surfers about the hassles they encounter from unfriendly locals.

The issue captivated Brewster's interest after one of his lifeguards, 31-year-old Michael Peugh, was attacked in May during an off-duty surf session at one of the more obscure, hike-in surfing reefs along the Sunset Cliffs area of Point Loma.

Brewster was outraged when one of the surfers who pleaded guilty to the assault against the lifeguard was sentenced to a mere 20 days of community service work. The light punishment was especially galling given that the perpetrator was already on probation for his involvement in a similar beating in 1996.

Judges need to get a clue regarding the insidious nature of localism, which for many is ruining the sport, Brewster reasons. The Open Waves Act would also serve notice that such behavior will no longer be tolerated.

"The bottom line is that no one should feel intimidated to use the waves off the California coastline," Brewster says.

The Open Waves Act calls for minimum penalties of 30 days in jail for anyone convicted of using threats or intimidation to deprive someone from using the ocean to surf, swim, fish or dive, and a minimum of 60 days in jail if the harassment escalates to physical violence.

In addition, bullies who go ballistic can be banished for up to a year from the surfing spot where they went berserk.

But will jail time for the troglodytes who lose their tempers in the water really solve the problem?

"I can't say yet if this legislation is the answer," said Pierce Flynn, executive director of the Surfrider Foundation, which has an in-house legal team that's reviewing the Open Oceans Act.

Surfrider has been adamantly opposed to violence or intimidation in the surf.

Surfrider's South Bay chapter in Los Angeles County recently went on record to condemn the "terrorist-like activities of local Lanuda Bay surfers" in Palos Verdes. Speaking as an individual surfer, Flynn said he finds the idea of banning wave tyrants from their favorite breaks an "intriguing" way to ding such despots.

While he's adamantly opposed to violence in the lineup, Flynn worries that shallow, over-hyped media coverage of such legislation will only reinforce stereotypes of the low-brow mentality that much of the public ascribes to surfers.

Could the Open Waves Act skew the public's perception of what's really happening among surfers, the overwhelming majority of whom have never taken a swing at each other?

"I've seen only a few altercations," said Flynn, 45, "and I've surfed all my life."

Steve Hawk, editor of Surfer magazine, was consulted about the new law, which he endorses in principle.

"I like the idea on its face because I hate localism in surfing," says Hawk. "It's totally unjustifiable."

But Hawk also has serious doubts that any law can eradicate the more subtle forms of localism that don't break the law but merely make outsiders feel uncomfortable enough to stay away.

Brewster has submitted his Open Waves Act to the city's intergovernmental affairs experts. A City Council committee eventually will review the proposed law and recommend whether or not to seek a state representative to sponsor the proposal and introduce it before the state Legislature.

The proposed law is certain to generate a lot of discussion about surfing and its future. The day of reckoning may have arrived.

TO: CSLSA BOARD OF DIRECTORS
FROM: ROB McGOWAN
SUBJECT: COMPETITION COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN'S REPORT
DATE: OCTOBER 15, 1998

Yet another great summer season of competition has come to an end. The Regionals and JG Regionals, hosted by Huntington City were outstanding, even if we couldn't always see all of the events. Congratulations to Kai Weisser and Dave Simcox for a terrific effort. Thanks are also due all of the volunteers and competitors who made the events possible. The Lifeguard Regionals were held on a Thursday for the first time, and it did not seem to have an effect on the number of competitors. I would like to discuss in committee whether we should stick with Thursdays or go back to Saturdays. When the fog finally cleared, Los Angeles County had won another team championship, followed by Laguna, led by superhuman Scott Deiderich. Host Huntington finished third, with San Diego fourth and Cal State South fifth. Complete team and individual results are available on our web site.

The USLA Nationals were in Chicago this year, and in one of the closest team point finishes in recent memory, L.A. County edged out Monmouth County by a mere 14 points! A strong team from San Diego picked up third, with Sussex County fourth and host Chicago picking up fifth. Complete team and individual results can be found on the USLA web site at www.usla.org. Thanks to Chicago for putting on a good show with limited sponsorship resources.

There are many proposed rule changes on the agenda for the Fall USLA Competition Committee Meeting next month, and we need to decide which way our region should vote. These decisions will shape the course of USLA Nationals to come. The 1999 Nationals are in Cape May, NJ. They already have a web site with lodging and other information that can be linked to through the USLA site. I encourage you to check it out and make plans early, as Cape May always puts on a good event. In the year 2000, the Nationals return to the West coast; anybody interested in hosting?

We also need proposals from any chapters and/or agencies interested in hosting Regionals and JG Regionals for the next two years. I would like to make it a two year bid process, and hopefully keep both events at the same venue on back to back days.

All this and much more are in store at today's committee meeting. Hope to see you there.

Hosted by the HBSLSA

The HBSLSA again successfully hosted the 1998 California Lifeguard Championships at the Huntington Beach pier. The 1998 Championships were an improvement from the successful 1997 event in which the HBSLSA co-hosted with Huntington State Beach. I would like to give a special thanks to the sponsors, volunteers, the CSLSA and all the lifeguard competitors!

New to this years event was the addition of a CSLSA alcohol sponsorship. Sol Cerveza was secured at the last minute thanks to the help of Eric Bauer of Newport Beach and Mr. Colosi the CSLSA and USLA fund-raiser. It must be noted that the Sol Cerveza sponsorship was successfully contained within the lifeguard event only. The junior lifeguard event was alcohol free with respect to all media material, promotions and the event site.

Some highlights of the 1998 event we should all be proud of include:

- 1) The Junior Lifeguard event at the same venue.
- 2) The ESPN national television coverage of the two day event.
- 3) The Event Program dedicated in memory of A. J. Summers.
- 4) The lifeguard event post party for competitors, officials and guests.
- 5) High quality VIP shirts for the officials and volunteers.
- 6) The posting of event results on the internet CSLSA.org.
- 7) Budget efficiency benefiting both the CSLSA and the HBSLSA.
(net profit split 25% to CSLSA and 75% to HBSLSA)

Attached with this report is the income/expense report.

The 1999 event is again scheduled for the Huntington Beach pier and should be the best yet!

SUBJECT: COMMITTEE REPORT (FALL MEETING)

First a BIG THANK YOU to the departments and individuals that hosted and assisted the 1998 New Zealand lifeguards. On June 29, the exchange guards attended the Project Wipeout seminar at Hoag Hospital in Newport Beach. They also visited 22 lifeguard departments from June 29 through August 8.

The exchange into Ensenada was successful and beneficial. The New Zealand lifeguards felt it was beneficial not only for themselves but equally for the Ensenada Lifeguards. The Ensenada lifeguard contacts have been made and the committee will determine if we want to continue this exchange in the future.

- We stayed within budget using most of the allotted funds for transportation. Receipts were forwarded to the treasurer and have been paid.

Two lifeguards have been chosen to represent CSLSA in New Zealand for the 1998/99 Lifeguard Exchange.

To me, Junior Lifeguards has less to do with awards, and more to do with growth and experience while forming a tightly woven family of friends, peers, and associates. Throughout the five years I have participated in this program, I have learned to love and respect it greatly. This program has taught me that if I want to achieve anything in life that I have to give it everything I've got; and that's just what I do. I try my hardest and do my best at everything in the program, whether it is picking up trash, or helping someone out of the water after an injury. As Joseph P. Thompson said, "Real glory springs from the silent conquest of ourselves." The Junior Lifeguard program has helped me face who I am, forced me to accept my limitations, and prompted me to use this knowledge to maximize my potential. This program has helped me in so many ways that I enjoy giving everything I've got back into it. For the following few years, I plan to work as an assistant in the program, helping young children to learn about themselves, and experience the wonders of the oceanic environment.

Why do I enjoy being a California Junior Lifeguard for the city of Huntington Beach? There are many reasons, such as: I stay fit. I get to meet new friends and see old ones. And the instructors are all wonderful.

First, I get to stay fit, which is important to a thirteen year old girl. We do many running and swimming events which are sometimes challenging but I like to run and I love the ocean so I try as hard as I can. Guards can, earn the rank of first or second lieutenant, by getting exceptional times on events. Also we do fun activities to keep us fit like games or relays. A few events I have participated in are, the pier swim, the B loop, many run-swim-runs, and last the Jetty run (six miles).

Also, I get to meet new friends in my group or on trips with Guards. Many of my friends from school also do Guards so I get to spend time with them too.

Last, but certainly not least the instructors. They motivate me all the time and are always happy, very funny, and fun to be around.

I love being a Junior Lifeguard in California and I plan to stay one and maybe someday even become a real lifeguard.

Clay Jorth
City of Newport Beach

This is my second year in Junior Lifeguards and I really love the program. I now hope to be a Lifeguard when I grow up. I really respect and admire all of the Instructors and have learned a lot. I see the importance of safety at the ocean and I'm glad that I have had this opportunity. I pay attention and set a good example by following directions well. I encourage other Jr. Guards and enjoy the team spirit. I enjoy new challenges and always put my best effort in everything I do. I like competitions and don't brag or boast when I do well. I am a nice person and I play fair and show good sportsmanship. I think I am a good example of what a Newport Beach Jr. Lifeguard should be and I am proud to represent the city and my squad. I hope my Instructor and the program are proud of me.

Subject: Public Education Committee Report
Date: October 14, 1998

The following issues will be discussed in today's committee meeting:

- CSLSA Stickers

Project has been put on hold due to the tragic loss of AJ. Volunteers for Project Coordinator and assistants are needed.

- Project Wipeout

The Project Wipeout symposium was held in June. Jim Turner will provide a short summary. Updated videos are now available. Please contact Kris O'Neill at Hoag hospital in Newport or visit their web site at: <http://www.wipeout.org>.

- Public Education Display Booth

CSLSA purchased a booth for use by all chapters. Booth may be used for local or regional events and will be kept at San Clemente HQ. Anyone wishing to check-out the booth should contact me at (949) 361-8219 at least two weeks prior. I will maintain a reservation schedule, as well as a status/repair check-off. Chapters wishing to use the booth are responsible for the pick-up and timely return of the booth.

Any chapter that would like to use the booth, is strongly encouraged (required) to send one representative to the set-up training session that we will hold at approximately 2:00 PM today. Learning the proper use and care of the booth is vital to protect our investment. Please plan to attend!

Special thanks to Mike Bartlett, Bob Moore, and Mike Beuerlein for their assistance in helping to get this project going and completed.

- Book Covers with Safety Tips

Committee will discuss findings and costs and present recommendations tomorrow.

- Ocean Festival Donation

The Ocean Festival committee has indicated an interest in making a contribution to a project within CSLSA. If anyone has any suggestions for a fairly major project ($ 3,000-4,000 ??) that warrants our request, please pass them along in committee.

- Other Projects

If you have any ideas, suggestions, or special projects related to Public Education, please plan to attend our meeting and share your ideas!

HEROIC ACTS COMMITTEE

CSLSA FALL MEETING 1998

On behalf of the USLA, CSLSA presented six Medals of Valor to Laguna Beach Lifeguards Kevin Snow, Tom Trager, Ormand Tegland, Mark Sproull, Patrick Quigley and Christian Corbo for multiple rescues performed in extreme mud slide conditions on the night of February 23rd, 1998. Awards were presented by USLA President, Bill Richardson, in a special ceremony at this fall meeting.

Committee considered one Medal of Valor nomination from Laguna Beach for lifeguard Patrick Quigley, for a multiple victim rescue performed on May 10, 1998 at Diver's Cove, Laguna Beach. Quigley entered a small rocky channel known as "Giggle Crack" in large surf conditions, rescuing three victims, a child and two adults. Quigley and victims were submerged for a multiple wave hold down and battered repeatedly against the rocks. Despite Quigley's urgent need for air, he refused to lose his grip on the ankle of the submerged child until several waves had passed and he was able to surface with the victim. Rescue meets criteria for Medal, and approval was recommended.

___ additional nominations were presented for consideration in committee.

Committee recommends that a letter of commendation describing the rescue event be added to the Medal of Valor award. Currently recipients receive only the medal with no written documentation of the award. This proposal will be forwarded to the USLA Heroic Acts Committee at the Fall '98 meeting.

- At the spring meeting we will have some type of JG program "resource book".

Budget

- No funds requested at this time.
